AUTOMOBILES

Arrangements can be made to hire automobiles by the hour, by the day, by the week or for any desired period at the following places:

William S. Hogan, 48 Avenue Kléber
Oscar Guttman, 41 Boulevard Haussmann
Krieger-Brasier, 48 Rue de la Boétie
The Motor Car, 194 Rue de Rivoli

CHURCHES

By far the larger number of churches in Paris are, of course, Roman Catholic, but there are as well some English and American churches of various denominations where the services are conducted in English.

AMERICAN AND ENGLISH:—American Episcopal Church of the Holy Trinity, 23 Avenue de l'Alma; Sunday, 10.30 and 5. American Presbyterian Church, 21 Rue de Berri; Sunday, 11 and 3. British Embassy Church, 5 Rue d'Aguesseau; Sunday 10.30, 3.30 and 8. St. George's Church (English), 7 Rue Auguste-Vacquerie. Wesleyan Methodist Church, 4 Rue Roquépine, Boulevard Malesherbes; Sunday 10.45 and 8. New Baptist Church, 61 Rue Meslay, near the Porte St. Martin; Sunday 2 and 8 p.m.

SYNAGOGUES (Service in French):—15 Rue Notre Dame de Nazareth; Saturday. 44 Rue de la Victoire; Saturday.

The following list indicates the more important Roman Catholic French churches. Mass is usually at 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11.30; sermons at 10 and 3.15.

ROMAN CATHOLIC:—Nôtre Dame, Place Notre Dame. La Sainte Chapelle, Rue d'Arcole. La Madeleine, Place de la Madeleine. Le Sacré Coeur, end Rue des Martyres (Montmartre). Eglise Saint Augustin, Place Saint Augustin, Boulevard Haussmann. Eglise Saint Etienne du Mont, Place du Panthéon. Eglise Saint François Xavier, Boulevard des Invalides. Eglise Saint Germain l'Auxerrois, Rue du Louvre. Eglise Saint Germain des Près, Place Saint Germain des Près. Trinité, Place de la Trinité.

DISTRICT MESSENGERS

There is a district messenger service in Paris somewhat similar to that in New York. The organization is called "Petits Messagers" and has offices at 21 Place du Marché St. Honoré, Telephone Nos., Gutenberg 28-55 and Gutenberg 25-87. The boys deliver the messages on bicycles, and the charges are 50 centimes for the first quarter of an hour and 25 centimes for every additional quarter of an hour.

GRATUITIES

In the more expensive hotels tips are about five francs each to the chambermaid, valet, porter and concierge. The tips for meals taken at the hotel are about 10% of the amount of the bill and are given to the head waiter. The porter who attends to the luggage expects one to two francs at arrival and departure. In the larger restaurants the average tip is about 10% of the amount of the bill and is paid to the waiter who served the meal. A tip of 25 centimes is sufficient at the cloakroom unless there is a party of several persons. In smaller establishments the tips should be reduced about one-third. At the theatres the attendants who take people to their seats expect 30 to 50 centimes. Railway porters receive about 50 centimes per package. Tipping is quite frequent in Paris, but small amounts, 30 or 50 centimes, are sufficient for small services.

OMNIBUSES

There is a large motor omnibus system throughout Paris, and nearly all important thoroughfares are traversed. These vehicles have large placards giving the names of the localities to which and between which they run. The charges are 15 centimes per section first-class, and 10 centimes second-class.

POST OFFICE RULES, INCLUDING PARCEL POST

There are numbers of branch post offices scattered throughout Paris, and stamps may also be purchased in tobacconists' shops, the columns on the boulevards and in stationery shops. The offices are open daily from 7 a.m. from March 1st to November 1st (8 a.m. in winter) till 9 p.m. (12 noon on Sunday and holidays). Late letters with an extra 5 centime stamp will be dispatched by the evening mails if they are posted in the special late boxes before the hours given on the boxes. The Parcel Post in France is indirectly in charge of the Post Office and is managed by the Railway Companies and forwarding agents. There are forwarding agents in practically every street of importance, and they are usually tobacconists, stationers, or shopkeepers of some sort. Parcels not exceeding 22 lbs. in weight may be sent in France or to the French colonies at the rate of 60 centimes for $6\frac{3}{4}$ lbs. (3 kg.), 80 centimes for 11 lbs. (5 kg.), and 1 franc, 60 centimes for parcels not exceeding 22 lbs., if delivered to a railway station or post office, but an extra charge of 25 centimes is made when parcels are sent to a private address. The limit of weight by parcel post for the United States and England is 11 lbs.

RAILWAY STATIONS

GARE DU NORD, Place de Roubaix, is the terminus of the Chemins de Fer du Nord, trains for England, via Calais or Boulogne, Belgium and Germany, via Liège.

GARE DE L'EST, Place de Strasbourg, is one of the termini of the Chemins de Fer de l'Est, whose lines run to Nancy and the eastern districts, Germany via Metz, Switzerland via Belfort and Italy via the St. Gotthard Tunnel.

TAXIS

Although there are still a few cabs without taximeters, they have been almost entirely superseded in Paris by the taxis, both horse and motor.

The tariff for horse taxis is as follows:

For 1200 mètres (about $\frac{3}{4}$ mile) or 9 min. drive, 75 centimes

For each 400 mètres (about $\frac{1}{4}$ mile) or 3 min. extra, 10 centimes

At night per drive or per hour an additional charge of 50 centimes

Each additional person beyond two, 50 centimes

Each piece of luggage, 25 centimes

The charges made for motor taxis are as follows:

For the first kilo. (about $\frac{3}{5}$ mile), 1 franc, 25 centimes

For each additional kilo., 50 centimes

At night per drive or per hour an additional charge of 1 franc

Each additional person beyond two, 50 centimes

Each piece of luggage, 25 centimes

Each time a city gate is passed, either going out or coming in an extra 50 centimes is paid, and for a cab discharged outside a city gate, one franc.

TEA

The short list of tea rooms given below is classified in the same manner as the restaurants.

No. 1. Rumpelmayer's, 226 Rue de Rivoli

No. 1. Colombin, 6 Rue Cambon

No. 1. Ritz Hotel, 15 Place Vendôme

No. 1. Elysée Palace Hotel, 103-113 Avenue des Champs-Elysées

No. 2. Chinese Umbrella, 114 Rue du Bac

No. 2. Afternoon Tea, 20 Place Vendôme

No. 2. Thé Récamier, 24 Rue du Mont Thabor

No. 2. A la Marquise de Sévigné, 11 Boulevard de la Madeleine

No. 3. Kardomah, 184 Rue de Rivoli

No. 3. Lilia, 44 Rue de la Chaussée-d'Antin

Nearly all the large hotels have tea rooms where there is music during the tea hour, and where tea is served at a charge of two francs inclusive. During summer tea is also served at the various restaurants in the Bois.

TELEGRAPH OFFICES AND TELEPHONE STATIONS

Telegrams are received at all post offices, and after 9 p.m. at the following places: Till 11 p.m., Gare du Nord, 24 Rue de Vaugirard, 33 Avenue des Champs Elysées, 10 Place de la République, 9 Rue des Halles, 93 Rue Blomet, 40 Rue Singer, 2 Rue de la Bastille, 31 Rue Ballu, 41 Boulevard St. Martin, 104 Rue Monge, 26 Boulevard de l'Hôpital; till midnight, Grand Hotel, Boulevard des Capucines, 4 Rue Sainte Anne, 3 Rue Boissyd'Anglas, 19 Rue d'Amsterdam; all night, the Bourse, (entrance on Rue Nôtre-Dame-des-Victoires), and 103 Rue de Grenelle.

A system of Pneumatic Tubes, known popularly as Petits Bleus, is very much used for dispatching messages in Paris and the immediate suburbs. The cards and envelopes for this system may be obtained at the telegraph offices, and letters can be sent at a moderate cost.

Telephones are to be found in almost every post office, as well as in the railway stations, hotels and other public places.

THEATRES

Theatres in Paris are quite expensive, the best seats in many of them being as high as 15 francs or more. The arrangement and naming of the seats differ a good deal, and the charges for admission vary to such an extent that no attempt has been made to give typical scale of prices.

TRAMWAYS

There are a number of tramways traversing Paris and running out to the suburbs, all of which have large placards designating the localities to which and between which they run, but they are not apt to be much used by the tourist, so a description of their routes is not included in this booklet. It may be noted, however, that among other places, lines go to Vincennes, St. Cloud, Versailles, and Auteuil, but it is not advised to make any of these excursions on holidays when the cars are very crowded.
